

I grew up near the North East coast and went to school in Durham. After graduating from Bristol with a BSc (Hons) in Geography I spent the next 10 years or so as a theatre Stage Manager. Memorable snippets include nearly 5 years(!) on Les Miserables in London, working at the Millennium Dome (now the O₂) during Millennium Night and much of the following year and open air theatre in Sydney. Once I had decided I wanted a purely daytime job I worked in the International Watches and Jewellery Department at Christie's the Auctioneers in South Kensington before moving up to Yorkshire with my young family.

I've worked at Marton as School Secretary since 2009.
